What They Are Saying:

Wozniak impresses at Adidas Phenom 150

Keswick Christian sophomore-to-be Tanner Wozniak was a strong performer at the Adidas Phenom 150 basketball camp in San Diego (June 26-30), an invitation-only event attracting 150 of the top rising sophomores and freshmen nationally. Wozniak, a 6-foot-3 combo guard, was chosen for the all-star game culminating the five-day camp and scored 11 points on 3-of-5 3-point shooting. He also grabbed three rebounds and dished out three assists.

Players are selected for the Adidas Phenom 150 camp based on their play at regional level tournaments. A major benefit of the camp is the exposure to scouts and recruiting services. One such service, Hoops Scoop, rated Wozniak the 17th best player and 4th best wing player at the camp.

BRYAN BURNS - St Pete Times

"Tanner is a highly skilled, versatile, intriguing college prospect. In addition to his ability to shoot the ball from the perimeter and to make plays off the bounce, Tanner has a great feel for the game and makes his teammates better."

Eric Wallace - Hoop Mountain Florida

What They Are Saying:

"Tanner is one of the top big guards in the state. He has the top Tampa Bay scoring game with 42 points with an astounding 26 points in one quarter. Tanner's maturity is the key to his success. Tanner is getting stronger and faster. He has transformed his frame to a powerful one in the last year, while improving his speed to play major D1 ball. His fundamentals, skills and strategies are nearly college-ready as a junior."

-Ron Brown - Former college coach/player & trainer, Basketball analyst (bigbasketball.net)
